Notes
vs Altuve	Threw 11 pitches & 9 of them were SL, totally took away any possibility of Altuve getting solid contact in the last 2 ABs. Prior to the game, Altuve had a 40% chase rate on the SL, & a chase hard-hit rate of 4% on the SL. The 1st AB tested Altuve coming right at him w/ a 4S close to where Altuve normally gets hard-hits. The rest of the SL hugged the outside corner or were completely out of the zone, however w/ the tendency to chase Altuve, he chased all 3 in the 2nd AB & in the 3rd AB had 2 SL called directly on the border of the zone. Tough to do anything in the 3rd AB but going down 0–1 early let Cease continue to pump SL. 2nd AB got beat w/ the same pitch 3 times.
Overall	The SL was effective posting an 41% whiff rate vs RHH, & a 100% chase rate vs LHH. Though the overall Whiff % was slightly lower than his season average, his chase rate was up 15%. Was using his BB more often as the 1st pitch in this game than his season average, chose to go w/ the CB 18% & SL 36% of the time. SL was only used as the 1st pitch against RHH, w/ LHH chose the 4S or Curve. 1st pitch versus RHH Cease either attacked up & in or low & away, then against LHH he attacked up & out or low & out. All 5 Ks were done by his SL. The SL played in the zone, vs RHH 5 out of his 7 whiffs on the SL were in the zone. Overall, the SL mixed w/ his 4S played very well reaching all parts of the plate which made for his strong outing.
